Word has come in from Phuket that Lord Weasel Tits, longtime Vancouver hasher and founder of the Hugh, died of a heart attack last night. Further details are not available at this time. The source was the Duke of Puke, another longtime hasher now permanently living in Thailand.

If you could put this out on the Seattle hash E-groups it would be appreciated.

See you guys in Toronto next month.

KL: Sad news indeed. The good Lord WT was always in fine fettle at the runs and circles. We'll miss him.

ON forever ON! FC

Aye, sad news ... but if I know Lord WT (aka Frodo) he was having waaay too much fun when his time came. At least that's how I see his passing in my mind's eye. I do hope I'm right, because I know he would have had it no other way.

A toast to Frodo!

On on!

Slan, old boy, for the last time!
